March 26th 2018: Ask Me About My Uterus with Abby Norman

Abby Norman is on a quest to make doctors listen to women's pain. With years of being undiagnosed and told her symptoms were "all in her head", Abby learned to navigate the medical system and advocate for herself. Now she has combined her research to make sure other women can be heard, and refute the belief that being a woman is a pre-existing condition. She is sharing her story in her book "Ask Me About My Uterus."
