March 29th 2018: Remove the Frustration from managing your Diabetes!

Jo Hausman interviews Patricia Daiker, RN, BC who is a Diabetes survivor and also a RN. She knows "both sides of the needle." She now coaches and blogs for people with diabetes and management of it. She will teach us how to remove the frustration and how to cope and manage diabetes. She believes patients need more than just education to change their lifestyle, they also need a new belief system. She will teach us that! I am looking forward to learning a lot from Patricia as I know a lot of people with Diabetes.
