Leadership Matters

Wednesday at 2 PM Pacific

April 11th 2018: Encore: Leveraging Technology to Enhance Leadership and Organizational Effectiveness

Today's organizations use technology for information management and communication and to help organizations operate efficiently and effectively. In the nonprofit and public sectors, information technology supports processes such as tracking, communication, public awareness, budget/financial management, human resource management, Internet-based marketing, and fundraising. Information technology is also a central component in organization's planning for disaster recovery, virtualization, and continuity of services. In this episode our guests, W. Harold Tuck, Chief Information Officer for the
