July 24th 2018: Are US Voting Systems and Voter Registration Data Secure?

On July 13 US special counsel indicted 12 Russian intelligence officers for hacking the Democratic National Committee & the Clinton presidential campaign during the 2016 elections. State & county offices responsible for administering the 2016 U.S. elections were also determined to have been targeted by the hackers in an effort to steal voter & other data. Hackers were successful in breaking into the voter registration systems in Illinois. They also targeted systems throughout all the states. Are USA voting and registration systems now secure enough to prevent successful hacks? What are the met
