December 18th 2018: CAR T Cell Therapy- A Spark of Hope

CAR-T cell therapy is a revolutionary treatment approach that is bringing new hope to multiple myeloma patients. Results of an early phase study were described by Reuters as “unheard of” and an industry paper called them “jaw-dropping.” On the show to help us find out all about this exciting new approach are Cherie Rineker who has been living with multiple myeloma for over 5 years and is participating in a clinical trial exploring this new treatment, and Dr. Jesus Berdeja, lead investigator of that study.
