status and use of technolog

Eight months ago, T3 describe the need for rebuilding and reconstruction on the island of Puerto Rico after the destructions of two major Hurricanes, Irma and Maria in 2017. Today, the Caribbean Islands are approximately 24 days away from Hurricane season which officially began on June 1, 2019 and will end on November 30, 2019. The last time we spoke about technology and hurricane was 8 months ago. Today, T3 will discuss the on-going reconstruction effort island and the tools used to help predict, prepare and avoid impact of hurricanes. Additionally, how is Federal Emergency Management Agency
