Nicole Cusanelli

Before becoming a member of the New Jersey State Police, she worked several years for the city of Philadelphia Probation and Parole Department where she was responsible for maintaining and supervising the caseloads of between 100 and 400 probationers in several units including the Government Fraud Unit, the Alcohol/ Highway Safety Unit, the Accelerated Rehabilitation Unit, and the General Supervision Unit. After becoming a New Jersey State Trooper, Nicole was active for many years as a general road trooper assigned to several stations throughout Southern New Jersey where she conducted hundreds of criminal and accident investigations. During her patrol of the New Jersey Turnpike, she was
