April 2nd 2020: WP Welcomes Owner Jack Knowlton and Trainer Kenny McPeck

Jack Knowlton first burst on to the national racing scene when his NY-bred gelding Funny Cide won the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness Stakes in 2003. It appears that his Sackatoga Stable has again caught lighting in a bottle with another NY-bred in Tiz the Law, who dominated the field in the G1 Florida Derby. With the Kentucky Derby now moved to Sept. 5 and the national stakes schedule in flux due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Knowlton said he is waiting to see how the Triple Crown race dates unfold. Trainer Kenny McPeck has a reputation for spotting yearlings with potential at a modest price

Jack Knowlton

Jack Knowlton first burst on to the national racing scene with his exploits in the yellow school bus that he and his partners travelled in to watch their NY-bred gelding Funny Cide win the KY Derby and the Preakness Stakes in 2003. He is the first NY-bred horse to win the Kentucky Derby and the first gelding to win since Clyde Van Dusen in 1929. It appears that his Sackatoga Stable has again caught lighting in a bottle with another NY-bred in Tiz the Law, who dominated the field in the Grade 1 Florida Derby. Tiz the Law, a winner of the Champagne Stakes (G1) at Belmont Park at 2, entered the Florida Derby off a three-length win in the Feb. 1 Holy Bull Stakes (G3), his season debut. With t
