April 7th 2020: All Renewables, are the future energy needs met

With all the discussions today on the green revolution, what do we know about renewable fuels. States after states are making demands on changing the energy grid with renewable fuels, such as solar, wind, bio, wave technology and others. Are we missing the best way to evaluate what renewal fuel energy is provided? Do we know the energy savings and outputs for the green revolution? Our guests today are Mr. Steven Curtis and Mr. Tom Dolan, leading advocates for the use of nuclear energy and recycling nuclear fuel within the green revolution.
