February 2nd 2021: Say It Skillfully® – Zaza Pachulia on the fortune of failure

Say It Skillfully® is a show that helps you to benefit from Molly Tschang's expert guidance on the best possible ways to speak your mind at work in a positive and productive manner. In Episode 65, Zaza Pachulia, whose 20-year career included 6 NBA teams and 2 Championships with the Warriors, opens up about starting in former Soviet Union in tough times—no jobs, no electricity, standing in bread lines. He recalls his Mom's role in picking basketball. His joy became his passion, then obsession. He shares poignantly the exuberance in his breakthrough at age 14—invited to play in Istanbul—then the

Zaza Pachulia

One of the most beloved players in recent seasons, Zaza Pachulia concluded his playing career in 2019 and returned to the Warriors, first as consultant and now as a hybrid to assist in both basketball and business operations. His 16-year NBA career included 6 teams, and he was a member of the Warriors' 2017 and 2018 NBA Championship teams—the only player from the Republic of Georgia to win the NBA title, one of 17 international players to win multiple, and one of 14 international players to play in over 1,000 career NBA regular season games. He's received numerous awards and honors in his native Georgia, including a Key to the City of Tbilisi from the Mayor, Medal of Honor from the President
