

Working on Purpose
New Episodes Weekly
February 10th 2021: For the Love of Learning:
Continuing Education as a Way of Life

It is hard to argue in today’s fluid workplace against the need for ongoing learning and development, constantly gaining new skills and stoking the ability to innovate and handle change. Some organizations are masters at providing professional development opportunities better that offer various ways to consume the content to maximize the learning experience and application ideas. This episode showcases how Cornerstone League stayed agile during the COVID pandemic to innovate novel ways to engage members with fresh content created from evolving societal and workplace needs for a vibrant learnin

Read more

Tune in
New Episodes Weekly on VoiceAmerica Empowerment
Channel

Featured Guests

Tamra Gaines
With 25 years’ experience in both the corporate structure, as well as associations, Tamra Gaines specializes in member relations, strategic meetings management, professional development and training. Tamra leads her team in successful execution of in-person and virtual events annually to benefit the Cornerstone members. Tamra is also an accomplished public speaker and a mentor to professional meeting planners. Through her public speaking events and professional volunteer service with Big Brothers-Big Sisters and others, Tamra developed a strong desire to educate and motivate people to stretch toward their potential. She captured these lessons in her book The Pillars of Confidence that expl

Read more

Amber Bailey
Amber Bailey currently serves as the Education Manager with Cornerstone League, a role created to focus on the increasing professional development needs of our members. With over 10 years of experience in the credit union industry, and 8 of those in training and development she is responsible for booking and managing speakers, content development for internal webinars/training and the development of online learning options to enhance the value proposition to our members. Amber, along with her husband and two daughters moved to Texas from Oregon a little more than two years ago. She holds her degree in Human Development with a minor in Psychology, magna cum laude from Oregon State University

Read more

Share This Episode

Connect with VoiceAmerica

