Featured Guests

Tova Javetz
Tova Javetz introduction to college admissions was as a student tour guide and interviewer for her alma mater, Barnard College. She began her professional career at Barnard as well, working as a senior admission officer. In that capacity, she was a member of the admission committee, a liaison to the athletic department, and provided oversight of campus programs. Following her time at Barnard, Tova moved across the street to Columbia University to complete her masters degree and served as an application reader and selection committee presenter. She then worked as an associate director of admission at both Fordham and Montclair State Universities. She has managed the athletic recruitment proce

Michael Yager
Michael has helped families navigate the college process throughout his entire career. He started working in the small liberal arts college environment at St. Lawrence University in New York and Wheaton College in Massachusetts. During his time in college admissions, Michael served as an athletics liaison and campus visit supervisor, and he also recruited students from Colorado, Texas, New York, and Massachusetts. Michael then moved to the high school side as the director of college counseling at The Baldwin School of Puerto Rico, an International Baccalaureate World School. Most recently, Michael served as the associate director of college counseling for Fort Worth Country Day, an independ
