

The Kathryn Zox Show
Wednesday at 7 AM Pacific December 1st 2021: Ep. 1414: Cuffing Season and Ep. 1415: Crisis Management

Kathryn interviews Author, Speaker Allana Pratt. Cuffing season can be defined as a time of the year, usually the colder months, when singles look for a short term romantic partner to nestle in with for the winter. While we are still socially distant, we need not be disconnected, as the past couple years of isolation has made it more essential than ever for singles to create thriving relationships they can count on. They are looking for safety in a setting where meaningful connections can blossom. Intimacy Expert Allana Pratt shares unique strategies to navigate cuffing season in a whole new e
