October 18th 2013: Surviving Survival - Navigating the Breast Cancer Maze

Surviving survival is this week's theme. Discussion around search for the cure has dominated breast cancer fundraisers; however as diagnostic techniques have improved and surgical & anti-cancer drugs have become more sophisticated; patients are living longer with significant issues; either physical or psychological. Surviving Survival is now a prolonged stage in the life of many women who have had breast cancer. Two key areas are; the void that is created when all treatment stops, & the gap between monitoring visits to the specialist doctor widens; a by-product of life challenging illness; the
