December 31st 2013: How far is your Future away?

New Year... How is 2014 going to be? If you are the creator of your life, what would you ask for? How do you create an ever expanding future? Are you willing to create for the future? What tools can you use to start and choose something different? We have invited Steve and Chutisa Bowman that are worldwide known authors and creators of several successful businesses and always willing to create and include more. What can we ask them? How do we create success? Are you, your life and your business ready for 2014?
