Helping Our Nations Peacekeepers: K9's For Warriors

In our continuing series on the challenges facing our nations soldiers and veterans, we switch the focus to the "four legged" support available to those struggling with post-traumatic stress as a result of combat or service to this country. Join us as K9s For Warriors explains how they rescue dogs, train them, and then provide them to veterans. We will also be joined by retired Staff Sergeant David Moore, the recipient of a K9s For Warriors dog, and he will explain how having one of these highly trained dogs has changed his life for the better.
