August 15th 2014: This week on Engage, we return to our roots and ask the question: whats driving the US economy and stocks?

This week on Engage, we return to our roots and ask the question: what's driving the US economy and stocks? First, we'll bring on JP Morgan's Jim Glassman to review what the recent economic data show, what sectors are driving the growth and what to expect for the rest of the year. Next, we'll bring on Wunderlich's Art Hogan to talk about the markets and where he sees opportunities for investing. I'll wrap it up with my take and provide takeaways on the economy, stocks and politics.
