August 20th 2015: Managing the Cyber World

It is difficult, today, to imagine the world without computers, email or the internet. We rely on it, use it as our primary communication vehicle. However, as beneficial as this cyber market of offerings is to our homes and businesses, we must be vigilant to threats. Do you know what you are seeking? Do you have an action plan in the event there is a data breach? What about an insider threat? If the intrusion is serious, is it feasible to identify and track down the cyber criminals? Tune in to hear cyber expert Bruce Anderson discuss this emerging discipline and ways to navigate complex cyber
