November 2nd 2015: Support Nursing Mothers,
On the Sidelines and Elsewhere

"Breastfeeding" may not be the first thing that comes to your mind when you think about football, but for many women fans, finding a quiet place to breastfeed or pump at the stadium is a bigger challenge than scoring tickets to the big game. By placing a pair of Mamava lactation pods at their stadium, the Minnesota Vikings has become the first NFL team to help mothers solve this problem. Join Marie Biancuzzo as she talks with Erin Swartz, of the Minnesota Vikings, and Sascha Mayer, of Mamava, about the need to support breastfeeding mothers to nurse or pump wherever they may be.
