November 13th 2015: Encore: Cyber Threats to Small to Medium Businesses

As a small to medium size business (SMB) are you aware of the cyber threats that can affect your business and cause damage? The program will provide information as to the types and volume of cyber threats that SMBs face, as well as a look at the types of actors that are interested in trying to compromise them. At the end it will look at various approaches that SMBs can do to better address their security postures.
