American Icon tells the story of an ICONS's life from the perspective of mental illness and addiction with the objective of inspiring and expanding their legacy to a place of purpose and regained passion. We will also be profiling the everyday person with a mirrored diagnosis and highlighting their journey during rehab. The goal of the show is to illustrate that no matter who you are, we are all human and we are going through similar issues. It will give people hope, resources and support to move from desperation to inspiration, healing and wholeness.
