Turning Hard Times into Good Times Tuesday at 12 Noon Pacific

October 17th 2017: Where Can We Find the Next Novo Resources?

Eric Coffin, Robert Carrington and Michael Oliver return. Last week we listened to Brent Cook and John Kaiser talk about the extraordinary potential of Novo Resources, a stock that has already increased nearly 10 fold over the past few months. Owning Novo has been a lot of fun with perhaps a lot more upside yet to come. But we want to know where might we find the next big thing? Newrange Gold's Pamlico project has produced some exceptionally high grade gold intercepts in Nevada. That's one possibility. We will look forward to an exploration update on Pamlico from Robert. Eric's knowledge of g

Featured Guests

Eric Coffin

Eric Coffin is the editor of the HRA (Hard Rock Analyst) family of publications. Responsible for the "financial analysis" side of HRA, Coffin has a degree in corporate and investment finance. He has extensive experience in merger and acquisitions and small-company financing and promotion. For many years, he tracked the financial performance and funding of all exchange-listed Canadian mining companies and has helped with the formation of several successful exploration ventures. Coffin was one of the first analysts to point out the disastrous effects of gold hedging and gold loan-capital financing in 1997. He also predicted the start of the current secular bull market in commodities based on

Robert Carrington

Mr. Carrington, BSc., PGeo, QP, is President & CEO, Director of Newrange Gold Corp. Robert Carrington has had more than 30 years of exploration, production and executive management experience with various junior mining firms. He is the former CEO and a Director of Gold Canyon Resources and the CEO and founder of Colombian Mines Corporation, now Newrange Gold Corp. As an early explorer in Colombia (since 1992), his experience was the basis for formation of Colombian Mines Corporation, which company is now active with a very promising project in Nevada.

J. Michael Oliver

J. Michael Oliver entered the financial services industry in 1975 on the Futures side, joining E.F. Hutton's International Commodity Division, NYC. He studied under David Johnson, head of Hutton's Commodity Division and Chairman of the COMEX. In the 1980's Oliver began to develop his own momentum-based method of technical analysis. In 1987 Oliver, along with his futures client accounts (Oliver had trading POA) technically anticipated and captured the Crash. Oliver began to realize that his emergent momentum-structural-based tools should be further developed into a full analytic methodology. In 1992 he was asked by the Financial VP and head of Wachovia Bank's Trust Department to provi
