March 30th 2018: Dental infections: Cause of Chronic Disease

Most people have cult dental infections which they are not aware of. Dr. Levy describes how these infections cause many chronic diseases including strokes, cardiovascular disease, pulmonary disease and arthritis. Root canals, implants and tooth extraction are typically sources of infections Other toxins which causes disease are fluoride and mercury both of which dentists gleefully put into our mouths.

Featured Guest

Thomas E Levy, MD, JD

Dr. Levy is a board-certified cardiologist and a bar-certified attorney. After practicing adult cardiology for 15 years, he began to research the enormous toxicity associated with much dental work, as well as the pronounced ability of properly-administered vitamin C to neutralize this toxicity.
