We believe there is a lot of misinformation about entrepreneurship out there in the veteran community. Many say it's too risky, that you need a lot of money to buy/start a business, that you don't have the business background to succeed, and a host of other falsehoods. Instead, we believe that those who commit to risking their lives for the benefit of others understand how to assess risk like no other group in society. Since the essence of running a business is all about managing risk, we believe that most veterans are well prepared for the challenge.
