April 10th 2018: The Secret to Intelligent Finance Planning: Collaboration

The buzz: "Disruptive technologies...will be used in the office of the CFO to increase productivity, simplify processes, and support decision-making" (Thomas Zipperle). Attention CFOs: Your Finance department can become a "smart" steward to drive fiscal and operational decisions for your business. How? By using real-time data access, next generation visualization, AI, Machine Learning and other modern technologies. But to be truly "intelligent", Finance must enable collaboration, not just discussion, to link plans across the business. The experts speak. Julien Delvat, TruQua: "I do not believe
