January 22nd 2019: Predictions 2019: Finance, Collaborative Planning, and Risk

The buzz: "There's no question over the last year this new wave of technologies has had an impact on CFO decision making" (Sandy Cockrell, Deloitte). Similar to personal New Year's resolutions, businesses are kicking off 2019 with new goals including corporate responsibility and diversity. How to get there? Finance and risk executives can harness emerging technology tools – artificial intelligence, machine learning, predictive capabilities – to help determine the best course of action. The experts speak. Nilly Essaides, Hackett Group: "The less I understood of this farrago, the less I was in a
