May 7th 2019: What Makes Finance 'Intelligent' ?

The buzz: "Contrary to popular imagination, the finance world of the future will not be manned by a robot army. It will, instead, comprise of a team of trusted advisors in the organization utilizing advanced tech" (David Chase). Finance leaders now understand that intelligent applications like artificial intelligence, machine learning, the Internet of Things and predictive analytics can help them improve business processes. How? These apps create new levels of insight, prediction, and efficiencies to empower Finance to drive enterprise-wide growth and strategic initiatives, invent new business
