October 29th 2019: Do Animals Imagine?

Dr. Stephanie Theodorou, a Professor of Philosophy, has published on theories of consciousness and the realm of animal consciousness. Dr. Theodorou and Dr. Franco explore whether animals have an imagination and, if so, how it mirrors or differs from the imaginative processes of humans. How animals think and emote is also explored to learn what we can learn from animal cognitive processes to shed light on our own.

Featured Guest

Dr. Stephanie Theodorou

After receiving her Ph.D. from Temple University in philosophy of religion, Stephanie Theodorou focused her attention to the study of consciousness and the role of symbolism in cognition. Her interest in animal consciousness evolved from her research in phenomenological accounts of experience in Western and Eastern philosophical traditions.
