February 13th 2020: Meet the Claybot...Taking Sporting Clays and Wingshooting Practice to a New Level

This week Marty welcomes Casey Rennert, the owner of Renair Shotgun Sports and developer of the new age Claybot to the show. The Claybot is a revolutionary mechanical system that allows shooters to change target presentations during practice sessions with the push of a button. The system literally allows for any target presentation that the trap machine is capable of throwing. The system is on wheels and is motorized so the trap can be moved to a different position, again with the push of a button. Renair has a number of models of the Claybot and Marty and Casey will provide a full rundo
