Featured Guest

Elio Trolio

Elio Trolio began his career in the Automotive industry, whereby he employed Design for Manufacturing & Assembly process guidance within GM businesses driving cost reduction across their Product Development teams. He then joined Chrysler's Procurement and Supply organization, driving quality across Chrysler suppliers from Advanced Quality Planning and PPAP perspective. Following, he contributed to the development of a robust supplier quality management program practice at Intier Automotive (formerly a division of Magna). Switching gears, Elio went on to drive continuous improvement from a technology perspective. At UGS PLM, he helped manufacturers understand the value of manufacturing-relate
