November 1st 2021: Transforming Purpose

Finding our calling can take both time and effort. For many of us, this can take time and even be a lifelong pursuit. For others, events in our lives can trigger a transformation and reveal our purpose to us. This happened to Meenal Lele who was very successful in the medical device world. The trigger? Allergies. Meenal recognized an opportunity and started a company that first produced products to help parents minimize the potential for allergies to appear in their children and now educates people on this. Join Chris and Meenal as they discuss her fascinating journey which highlights a

Meenal Lele

Meenal Lele, is founder & CEO of Lil Mixins, an early allergen introduction solution. Her first transformation occurred when she decided to leave her work in the medical device industry (she was on the founding team of two successful start-ups in orthopedics and vascular medicine) to create Lil Mixins. Lil Mixins combines her deep clinical & device experience and her chemical engineering & business degrees from the University of Pennsylvania, with her goal to end food allergies that affect 40 million Americans, like her son. Today, her company is going through a transformation, as she is transitioning from a product focused company to an education focused company. She realizes now that
