

Go To Health! Wednesday at 12 Noon Pacific

Go To Health Radio features health experts from around the world who bring evidence-based education from Western, alternative, and holistic practices. It is supported by our website and social media properties.

We bring together the public (seeking relevant, reputable, and proven solutions to their healthcare needs) and healthcare providers and companies, trying to reach target audiences with quality information, services, and products. Once a month, we also share continuing education for medical professionals.

We provide a welcoming environment where experts educate listener
