January 18th 2010: Georgienne Bradley talks to the Imaging Foundation's Mission

Georgienne Bradley joins David Gibbons in a passionate overview of the work undertaken by the Imaging Foundation. As scientist and executive director she works between the many projects they have around the world and fundraising activities. Education and involvement of children has been a life long dream in this organization's work. Georgienne Bradley talks to the essential nature of our oceans in maintaining the equilibrium of her sensitive eco system and marine life.
