May 6th 2010: "Haiti - The Critical Warning of a Looming Health Pandemic"

Pat O'Brien joins David Gibbons on "In Discussion" to talk to the urgent need of eliminating proactive and deadly diseases in our environment. His company Air Tech Solutions uses nanotechnology to fight against disease in a wide range of living environments. This work includes developing clean water and now utilizes the spraying of tried and tested products to minimize disease over large areas. In the fight to reduce diseases leading out of the natural disaster in Haiti Pat O'Brien defines strategies to eliminate disease from the air through spraying over large geographical areas. AirTech Solu
