Turning Hard Times into Good Times

Tuesday at 12 Noon Pacific

January 24th 2012: Gold and Country Confiscation. What Can You Do About It?

Bob Unger and David Ganz, two litigators, appear for the first time to discuss the issue of national sovereignty and the right to retain ownership of gold. Guests like Coleman, Griffin, Perkins, Estulin, and Salbuchi have provided evidence that democracy in America is an illusion and that unseen powers aiming at control of a one-world government, manipulate public opinion into giving up life, liberty and property in exchange for the illusion of wealth and safety. In the struggle against one-world government stands Ron Paul who is charged as being anti-Israel. In fact, Unger will discuss how

Featured Guests

David L. Ganz

David L. Ganz, managing partner and principal litigator in the law firm of Ganz, Hollinger & Towe in New York City, and Ganz & Sivin, P.A., of Fair Lawn, N.J., has been an award-winning writer in the numismatic field for more than 30 years. His knowledge about coins and the law is widely sought after, both as a consultant, a writer, and a lawyer, having been asked to testify before the Subcommittee on Consumer Affairs and other subcommittees of the House Banking committee on more than a dozen occasions since 1974, most recently in July 1995. He has served as a columnist for Coin World from 1976-96 ("Backgrounder" and "Law and Collectibles") and for Numismatic News Weekly from 1969-present

Robert Muchnick

Robert Muchnick is the US Director of Manhigut Yehudit (The Jewish Leadership Movement), which is the largest faction inside Israel's ruling Likud party. Manhigut Yehudit strives to restore Jewish values, pride and integrity to the state of Israel. Among our goals are to end the taking of all foreign aid, to make Israeli currency 'sound money', and to annex and settle all lands liberated in the war of 1967. The head of Manhigut Yehudit, Moshe Feiglin, has recently been called by former Knesset Speaker Avraham Burg (Labor), "the most important man in Israeli political discourse today". Mr. Feiglin is currently running against Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu for the Chairmanship of th
