Gary Blier

Gary Blier, author of the forthcoming book, "Healing The Incurable," was diagnosed with Ankylosing Spondylitis, a progressive, incurable disease which causes relentless arthritic joint pain and immobility. Determined to beat this condition, he visited all types of traditional and alternative providers and finally found answers in California and Mexico. The doctors, who cured him, also trained him. After years of study, he learned that these corrective disciplines he learned complement each other. Gary combined their theories into the process now called, Advanced Cell Training. 15 years later, literally thousands of people have been empowered to overcome diseases like MS, Lupus, Lyme Disease,

Mary Peterson

Chiropractor Dr. Mary Peterson graduated in 1987 from Life Chiropractic College West in San Lorenzo, CA, where she practiced for 12 years. She now has a practice in Nevada. She is passionate about health and understands sickness and pain, having spent years on her own journey healing from a chronic disease. The lessons learned on the way have afforded her a great deal of knowledge about health and how to achieve it. The draw to chiropractic has always been that our bodies were designed to fight off disease and heal themselves. The stresses of modern society pose a constant threat to that goal. By adjusting the spine it brings relief from the stressors of everyday life and allows the body the
