Come Back To Your Senses Radio Archives Available March 22nd 2012:ESP - Extrasensory Perception

We often think of extrasensory perception as extraordinary abilities that only a select percentage of the population enjoy. Indeed some individuals appear to be especially gifted in this area of human perception however; ESP is an innate ability common to everyone. Throughout our lifetime we have all heard people say trust your intuition, listen to your sixth sense, follow your gut instinct, or go with your hunches. These common expressions refer to our extrasensory perception. As young children we were naturally open to sensing things through our other senses yet children are often told tha
