September 25th 2012: A Sustainable New World

We are living in a critical moment of human and planetary history where the future of life on earth will be determined by the way we respond to important issues such as deforestation, climate change, species extinction, social inequity and poverty. Join us this week on The Hoffman Connection to hear how one man is meeting the movement towards ecological consciousness through the earth-saving Whidbey GeoDome Project. It will change the way you look at life as you know it and the footprint we are leaving for future generations.
