October 1st 2012: Family Caregivers Organizing and Coordinating their Caring

Jonathan Schwartz was President and CEO at Sun Microsystems. He co-developed CareZone for people like him who must simultaneously care for children and parents. He explains how CareZone helps family caregivers manage information about family members' health and progress, and ensure that medications are taken as prescribed, that all treatments are followed, and that side effects are reported to the physician. How it helps family caregivers manage medical appointments and home visits. How it protects family members' information. How it helps family members who don't want their information shared
