February 05th 2013:How Can People with Parkinsons Disease Reverse Their Symptoms?

Many people hold the false belief that Parkinson's disease is degenerative. This means once a person gets it they are destined to get worse. Seven years of focused research reveals this belief is dead wrong. People who have been diagnosed with Parkinson's disease have successfully reversed their symptoms. Research reveals that people benefit from sound, color, vibration and light therapies which employ the assessment of frequencies to diagnose the symptoms associated with a diagnosis of Parkinson's disease. Once the cause of the neurological symptoms has been identified, they have been suc
