November 26th 2012: Helping Family Caregivers Caring for Children with Mental Health Challenges

Dr. Marshall Korenblum is Psychiatrist-in-Chief of The Hincks-Dellcrest Centre, <http://www.hincksdellcrest.org/ABC/Welcome>, a children's mental health treatment, research, and teaching center in Toronto, Canada. He explains how his work at the Centre involves him with family caregivers. He describes the difficulties faced by children and their family caregivers, the most difficult challenges they face, and the outcomes typical of their mental health conditions. He highlights the care children need and says what determines whether a child should be cared for at home or in a residential facility
