Frankly Speaking About Cancer with the Cancer Support Community Tuesdays at 1 PM Pacific January 29th 2013: Care for the Caregiver

We know that a cancer diagnosis is life-changing—not only for the person with cancer, but also for the loved ones in that person's life. Today's show is all about caregivers and the FOCUS program, a unique collaboration between University of Michigan researchers and the Cancer Support Community of Greater Ann Arbor. Host Kim Thiboldeaux is joined by Dr. Laurel Northouse, nurse scientist and professor of nursing at the University of Michigan, and Bonnie Dockham, program director at CSC Ann Arbor, who have both returned to the show to discuss the findings of their research on caregivers.
