

EMPOWERMENT

Why We Are Here

Archives Available

February 15th 2013: Why We Are Here: Actor-Author and Teacher Adiliah Barnes and Voice Artist Broadcast Expert Leslie Stoval

Actor-Author and Teacher Adiliah Barnes and Broadcaster Leslie Stoval are two formidable guests who represent the power of constructive messaging and its positive impact on the public. They are vivacious "women of color" who unequivocally answer the question, "Why We Are Here". Adiliah Barnes known for her dynamic role as "Anne Marie" on the pop culture TV series, Rosanne is an award-winning actress of stage, TV and Motion Picture. Her one-woman show, "I Am That I Am: Woman, Black" has traveled to 41 states with performances on 3 continents. She's also appeared on numerous TV shows including "

Read more

DOWNLOAD PDF

GET CODE

Tune in

Archives Available on VoiceAmerica Empowerment Channel

EPISODE ON DEMAND

VIEW HOST PAGE

Featured Guests

Adiliah Barnes

Adiliah Barnes is best known for her dynamic role as "Anne Marie" on the pop culture television series, "Rosanne". Adiliah. She is an award-winning actress of stage, television and the Motion Picture Industry. Her one-woman show entitled, "I Am That I Am: Woman, Black" has traveled to 41 states with performances on three continents. She's also appeared on numerous television shows including "Gilmore Girls," "Cold Case," and "Body of Proof," as well as the movies "Erin Brockovich" and "Basic Instincts." The sultry voiced Leslie Stoval appeared in Bay Area radio with KMEL-FM before moving onto serving up music and stimulating topics for twelve years at KBLX-FM in San Francisco, California. She ha

Read more

Leslie Stoval

Voice Artist Broadcast Expert Leslie Stoval

Read more

Share This Episode

Share On Facebook

Share On Twitter

Share On LinkedIn

Connect with VoiceAmerica

Download our mobile apps

Read what our hosts are writing about.

VOICEAMERICA BLOG