March 05th 2013: The Canyon Ranch Experiment

The Canyon Ranch Experiment: in 1985 Dr. Drewry designed and built, for the purpose of enhancing bodywork, two Vibrational Healing rooms using Sound, Color, Essential Oils, Homeopathy and Brainwave Entrainment (Monroe Institute Hemi-Synch™). These modalities were combined in complementary octaves of vibrational for a synergistic effect in restoring coherence to the human energy fields. Equipment in the room included: (1) a massage table vibrating at selected brainwave frequencies between 2-20 cycles per second; (2) a color wheel in the ceiling; (3) classical music recorded in the seven keys

Damaris Drewry, Ph.D.

Damaris Drewry, Ph.D. Psychology, is an innovator in the fields of Somatic Psychology and Vibrational Medicine and a lifelong student of mystical and esoteric traditions. With Edgar Cayce as a guide, she built the first Vibrational Healing Rooms in the USA at Canyon Ranch Health and Fitness Resort in Tucson, Arizona in 1985. Also during the 1980's she was an "Earth Grid Singer" and was gifted with knowledge that the Human Voice activates the harmonic matrix of the human body the same way sound activates the harmonic matrix of the earth. After that she began her counseling career creating alternatives to traditional psychotherapy using Shamanic Healing, Somatic Psychology, connected breath
