

The DrStem Show Archives Available

April 9th 2013: PARENT to Parent-Four (4) Parents Discuss How They Survived Parenting Teens

Children entering their teenage or adolescent years present new challenges for their parents. Most of these challenges stem from parents' preconceived ideas that their children will become difficult, moody and oppositional just because that is the stereotypical view of teenagers' behavior. Despite some adults' negative perceptions about teens, they are often energetic, thoughtful, and idealistic, with a deep interest in what's fair and right. So, although it can be a period of conflict between parent and child, the teen years are also a time to help kids grow into the distinct individuals the

Tune in

Archives Available on VoiceAmerica Empowerment Channel

Read more

Featured Guests

Carl Rhowe

Carl Rhowe -A Parent, Senior Consultant at Business Coaching Associates, Orlando FL. Carl' s goal is to help businesses strengthen the way they operate while maintaining a level financial profile in an effort to increase their market share, and improve their positions within their respective business communities

Read more

Paulette Randolph

Paulette Randolph is an educator for grades 9th-12th at an Alternative Interim School: she holds a Master's in Social Work, and working on her Doctorate in Educational Leadership. She's a mother of 4 children.

Dr. John Loblack

Dr. John Loblack is a husband and father of three; an educator, coach, author, motivational speaker, and entrepreneur. His main focus is on helping people develop a greater sense of self-esteem, while growing in self-confidence.

Read more

Rhonda Scott Soudart

Rhonda Scott Soudart is a mother and professional who works for the Florida Department of Juvenile Justice where she has had many opportunities to intervene and provide services to juvenile delinquencies.

Share This Episode

Connect with VoiceAmerica

Download our mobile apps

Read what our hosts are writing about.

