

Moir's Environmental Dialogues
Archives Available
April 25th 2013: Implementing the National Ocean Policy

Tune in

Archives Available on VoiceAmerica Variety Channel

EPISODE ON DEMAND

VIEW HOST PAGE

Alison Chase and Sarah Chasis (pictured) of the Natural Resources Defense Council talk with Rob about what Sarah calls "a recipe for smart ocean management that could set our oceans on track to long term health." With so many American jobs and communities dependent on oceans, this is a most opportune time for ocean planning. Let's dive in. Recently President Obama issued the final plan for managing our oceans, a call for collaborative communications and management across 27 federal agencies and departments in concert with state agencies, municipal, local groups and tribal nations. The Nat

Read more

DOWNLOAD PDF

GET CODE

Featured Guests

Alison Chase

Alison Chase is an oceans policy analyst in NRDC's New York office. She has worked for and volunteered at agencies and organizations including the U.S. Department of the Interior, the League of Conservation Voters and the Sierra Club. Alison has also served as a senior associate for the strategic consulting firm of GMMB. Alison received her master of public administration degree in environmental science and policy from Columbia University and her bachelor's degree in political science from Colgate University.

Read more

Sarah Chasis

Sarah Chasis is a senior attorney and director of NRDC's ocean initiative. Her work focuses on promoting the protection, maintenance and restoration of healthy ocean ecosystems, including healthy ocean fish populations and habitats.

Read more

Share This Episode

Share On Facebook

Share On Twitter

Share On LinkedIn

Connect with VoiceAmerica

Download our mobile apps

Read what our hosts are writing about.

VOICEAMERICA BLOG