June 19th 2013: Handling Complex Events

There are constant opportunities and threats that have the potential to change the way a business operates, however little or great their impact. Businesses need the capability to handle complex, interconnected and unpredictable events. Organizations must quickly set up, detect, and analyze the information they need to ensure the action they take is timely and relevant. Have we mastered the art of identifying and addressing complex events that are either organic or man-made? What are the recent challenges and innovations that can help business get a better grip on complex events?
