September 12th 2013:Body Scans for Health

Everyone has the skills to sense energy, just think of the person who has stood too close to you in an elevator and how that felt. Now, how can we use that to actually sense what is going on in your body and others? We will do hands-on exercises in this hour of perceiving what is going on in someone's body - where they have had surgery before and the scar tissue is left behind, cysts & fibroids, blockages keeping the energy from flowing fluidly throughout the body, if someone is pregnant or on their cycle and much more! Join in for an exciting hour of Body Scans for Health! o Website a
