PI's Declassified! Thursday at 9 AM Pacific September 05th 2013: Genealogy: Filling in the Gaps

As people are more and more transient, searching and locating an individual often becomes a primary task for many investigators. It could be finding a witness on a civil, a criminal case, a birth parent, a war veteran or an heir to an estate. Every so often a private investigator is even assigned to develop a family history and connect the links between generations. The longer the elapsed time since there was contact or a known address, the more difficult the search becomes. This is where expert genealogist Christopher Utley enters the scene. Tune into hear Christopher to provide tips to ge

Christopher Utley

When Christopher Utley was 17 years old, his first job was as a library attendant in the Family History Center of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in Salt Lake City. He then moved to the Temple Index Bureau where he started to do genealogy and family history where he learned his craft. Chris graduated with a BA in design after attending Utah Valley State College and Brigham Young University (BYU). As a BYU student, he worked as a document researcher for BYU's PBS series "Ancestors." With the help of his wife, Chris founded Reuniting Families in 2010. He does most of his research at the Family History Center Library, where he got his first job. Since then, Chris' work has e
