Anna Marie Jaworski

Anna Marie Jaworski is the mother of a son with a severe congenital heart defect (CHD). He endured two open-heart surgeries in his first year of life. His surgeon told her and husband Frank that he was born with hypoplastic left heart syndrome. He underwent a revision of his last surgery at age 17 and had a Maze Procedure to stave off future arrhythmias. With a lack of information for parents, she wrote a book about the syndrome and started a publishing company for the CHD community, <http://www.babyheartspress.com/>. She started a support group for CHD parents in Central Texas and became a public speaker. Joey, her heart-healthy son, inspired her t
